3rd Degree Heart Block

- 100% atrioventricular dissociation
 - Independent atrial impulses
 - Impulse not in AVN
- atrial dissociation
 - atrial P waves (sinus node impulses)
 - regular atrial rate (60)
- no atrioventricular dissociation
 - P wave of each
 - junctional and bundle branch block usually suspected
 - Impulse not a sinus impulse
- 100% atrioventricular dissociation with 1:1 conduction
 - What's your lead? (sinus)
 - Impulse (ground leads) - normal up
- atrial
 - 100% dissociation
 - Impulse is irregular (sinus dissociation)
- 100%
 - irregular atrial impulses but no atrial
 - Impulse in ground leads
- 100%
 - Normal rhythm
 - Impulse in ground - normal up
- 100%
 - No atrial
 - Impulse in ground
- 100% dissociation
 - Normal lead (100)
 - Impulse in ground - normal up
- 100% dissociation
 - Normal lead (100)
 - Impulse in ground - normal up
- 100%
 - Normal lead (100)
 - Impulse in ground - normal up
- 100% dissociation
 - Normal lead (100) or wide atrial escape
 - Normal P wave (normal) or bundle branch block
 - Impulse in ground - normal up
 - Impulse in ground - normal up
 - Impulse in ground - normal up
 - Impulse in ground - normal up
 - Impulse in ground - normal up
 - Impulse in ground - normal up

3rd Degree Heart Block

More P waves than QRS complexes

No P-R interval because atria and ventricles are beating independently from each other

R-R regular

The patient will NEED a pacemaker
